Elinor Young

Elinor Young was nine years old when she first thought about working overseas. Weakened by Polio as a child, it seemed like an impossible dream. But in 1973 Elinor reached Papua, Indonesia, to begin linguistic, translation, and community development work among the primitive Kimyal people of Papua, Indonesia. During her nearly 17 years there, the Kimyal tribe gave Elinor the name Bad Legs, saying her bad legs were a symbol of God's love for them. Now retired, Elinor writes, speaks, mentors, and anticipates the day her memoir will be published. She was our quest speaker in July 2019.
