

Spokane Authors Member Web-Page

Mark Carter

Mark Carter is a former senior editor at King's Publishing Group, Inc. In addition to writing and editing numerous newspaper and magazine articles, he is the author of the book Spokane Then and Now (2004 Edition) and the project editor of the book Dear Old Nat... Spokane's Playground.

Mark lives in Idaho as a freelance copyeditor, proofreader, writer, and English teacher. He is a Silver Member of The Christian PEN.

Visit Mark online at www.writingcabin.com

*Continue below for information about books Mark as edited.
(Includes Amazon™/Kindle™ ASIN codes)*

Spokane Then and Now

0970822766

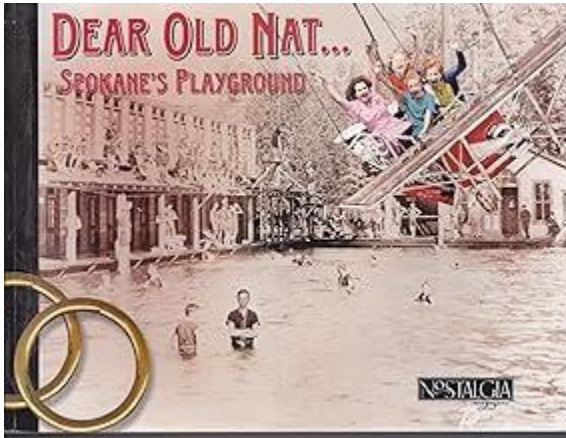

Photographer: Byron D. King
Editor: Mark Carter

From humble beginnings to boomtown splendor, to the vibrant city it is now - Spokane's rich history is mirrored in modern photos that will at once illuminate, surprise, and delight you.

Dear Old Nat...Spokane's Playground

0970822768

Writers: Maria L. Hyder and Donald R Johnson
Editor: Mark Carter

"Anyone who grew up in Spokane between 1889 and 1968 knows that Natatorium Park exercised an almost magnetic pull on the people of Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho." From the introduction to a nostalgic look back at the famously fun park.

Page created 11/22/2024 dam
©2024 www.spokaneauthors.org